VIEW FROM THE TOP

The signs of Spring are starting to show around us signalling the imminent start to our motoring season. By now many of us have already cranked some of the slumbering engines in anticipation of enjoying a first drive. With this in mind, Ted Lobley has organized our first APAC outing set for Sunday, April 16th. This will be a brunch event in the Wainwright Hotel at Heritage Park where parking on the grounds right at the hotel will be available for us. At present the weather forecast indicates cool conditions with a snow/rain mix, but being Calgary, there is sufficient time ahead for weather improvements to allow our older vehicles to be driven. If not, our daily drivers will have to do. Please be sure you RSVP to Ted who is coordinating our attendance with the Hotel.

Further to our new Executive, I am most pleased to confirm that Cathy Gilbert has agreed to fill the vacant position of Secretary. This is excellent news as an active scribe is most important for our Club.

We all need to work to resolve finding a successor to Richard Bellaart, our long-serving newsletter Editor. Richard long since had established a high standard and quality for our Club Newsletter and therefore it is understood that following in his footsteps will be a challenge. Nevertheless, Richard has an efficient system in place for producing the Alberta Pioneer Auto News and he will be available for guidance and coaching. Please give your thoughts to this situation.

All suggestions will be welcome, even if we may have to develop some changes to the newsletter's format and production.

For our upcoming April meeting, we will have a shortened business segment and will be including some entertainment of motoring interest. So, I look forward to your company and warm smiles at the meeting!

Denis

A TRUE LOVE STORY

An 80 year old woman was arrested for shop lifting. When she went before the judge in Florida he asked her, 'What did you steal?'

She replied, 'A can of peaches.'

The judge then asked her why she had stolen the can of peaches. And she replied that she was hungry.

The judge then asked her how many peaches were in the can. She replied, '6.'

The judge said, 'Then I will give you 6 days in jail.'

Before the judge could actually pronounce the punishment, the woman's husband spoke up and asked the judge if he could say something.

The judge said, 'What is it?'

The husband said, 'She stole a can of peas too.'

McScellaneous Ramblings

by Mike McGowan, Editor at large, Corvair Society of America
reprinted with permission of the author

Here's the next instalment of Mike McGowan's ramblings.

suggested by Michel Gélinas

The Good Old Days

I wrote a column about how I like the old cars for the way they feel responsive and fun. I did not say they are fast by modern standards, they are not. Those of our age remember the 1960s and early 1970s as a golden age of fast and powerful cars, but they are not. Technology marches on: computers, materials, lubricants, engines, transmissions, traction.

What was the fastest car of that bygone era? Corvette 427? Boss Mustang? Hemi Cuda? The most common quoted yardstick for that is 0-60 mph times. It is difficult to measure exactly, but there are published tests from the time. The quickest of these cars were under six seconds, down to around five seconds. What supercars can do that now? Well, forgive me for sullyng your nostalgia about the good old days, but today just ordinary cars do that. A V-6 Toyota Camry will run in the fives and pass most of those old beasts. Modern supercars will turn 0-60 in less than three seconds, some near two seconds.

So what does this have to do with Corvairs? I usually try to work in a Corvair story. Well, one of the features of modern cars is computer control. Most aspects of the engine and chassis are managed by computer systems. One thing they can do is limit the power output. How can this make cars faster? Now that engines can make 700-800 horsepower, their heat loads vastly exceed the capacity of any cooling system. The driver or the car must have the judgment to limit the time using max power or the system will overheat and fail. If the driver will not ease off, then the car must protect itself. Dodge Hellcats will switch their air conditioning systems over to engine cooling duties at times of high power, then limit the power output before things get too hot.

Corvair had a similar problem when the 1968 models combined A.I.R. pollution control systems with car air conditioning. The combined heat load overwhelmed the air cooling so in hot weather and high speed the engine temperature would climb without limit. To prevent the engine from destroying itself, the testers backed off the power. But customers could not be depended upon to do that, so Chevrolet discontinued the Corvair air conditioning option to protect their warranty costs.

I like to say that cars are getting smarter, in some ways maybe smarter than we are. They can actually protect themselves from some kinds of driver abuse. This also means that, for short times under certain conditions, they can also allow unprecedented levels of performance.

JUST ABOVE EDWORTHY PARK...

On Saturday March 25th there was a special event happening at the Wildwood Community center in the city's southwest - long-time APAC club member George Edworthy was celebrating his 90th birthday and asked family and friends to come join the fun! The hall was decorated in traditional birthday fare with balloons, bling and lots of grand kids and great-grand kids!!!

There were fun filled facts and tributes about George that were displayed on the tables in the front of the hall, too!

Looking around there were many photographs on display showing George in his earlier years - it seems he loved to pose for the camera whenever the opportunity presented itself!

After the Happy Birthday chorus had been sung, George was busy inviting friends to come up to enjoy a slice of cake with a dollop of ice cream, which we did!

Before we knew it the party was winding down. Hugs, handshakes and well wishes were bestowed on George, glad that we attended his milestone birthday and wished him many more, one at a time!

Congratulations George!
from all of your friends

WORDS FROM A BYGONE ERA

Mergatroyd: do you remember that word? Would you believe the spell-checker did not recognize the word, Mergatroyd? Heavens to Mergatroyd!

The other day a not so elderly lady (maybe 75) said something to her son about driving a jalopy. He looked at her quizzically and said, "What the heck is a jalopy?" He had never heard of the word jalopy! She knew she was old ... but not that old!

Well, I hope you are Hunky Dory after you read this and chuckle?

Thank you to whomever dug up these old expressions that have become obsolete because of the march of technology. These phrases included: "Don't touch that dial; Carbon copy; You sound like a broken record; and Hung out to dry".

Back in the olden days we had a lot of moxie. We'd put on our best bib and tucker, to straighten up and fly right. Heavens to Betsy! Gee Whillikers! Jumping Jehoshaphat! Holy Moley.

We were in like Flynn and living the life of Riley. And don't accuse us of being a knucklehead, a nincompoop or a pill: not for all the tea in China!

Back in the olden days, life used to be swell, but when's the last time anything was swell? Swell has gone the way of beehives, pageboys and the D. A.; of spats, knickers, fedoras, poodle skirts, saddle shoes, and pedal pushers, Kilroy was here, but he isn't anymore.

We wake up from what surely has been just a short nap, and before we can say, "Well, I'll be a monkey's uncle!" or, "This is a fine kettle of fish!" We discover that the words we grew up with, the words that seemed omnipresent as oxygen have vanished with scarcely a notice from our tongues and our pens and our keyboards. Poof: go the words of our youth, the words we've left behind. We blink, and they're gone.

Where have all those great phrases gone? Long gone: Pshaw, The milkman did it. Hey! It's your nickel. Don't forget to pull the chain. Knee high to a grasshopper.

Well, Fiddlesticks! Going like sixty. I'll see you in the funny papers. Don't take any wooden nickels.

It turns out there are more of these lost words and expressions than Carter has little liver pills. Carter's Little Liver Pills are gone too!

So see ya later, alligator!

Reply: after a while, crocodile!

Okidoki!

NAACC REPORT #112, 2023--TARIFF EXPENSES WAVED ON PARTS & VEHICLES 25 YEARS OLD OR OLDER

National Association of Automobile Clubs of Canada Corporation
NAACC Presidents Report #112 — March, 2023

NAACC Info update: Tariff & Duty at the USA/CDN Border... Updated 2023

Some information has been taken from NAACC Presidents Report #107 (This information may save you big dollars when you import a car or parts or related items.)

In the late 1970's and early 1980's the NAACC lead the way in doing away with Customs Duty when importing collector vehicles or related parts 25 years old and older. The cost of the lobby was six figures and was very expensive. The NAACC looked after the all of legal bills and conducted a Canada wide lobby. We met face to face with the Federal Government to ensure the collector car hobby was exempt from paying Canadian Customs Duty.

Current regulations: Here is some information about Customs Duty and brokerage fees for collector cars and related items 25 years old and older brought into Canada as of 2023: Auto parts for vehicles 25 years old and older are duty free into Canada no matter the country of origin. Simply ask the shipper to indicate HS code 9966.00.00 on the customs declaration. This Tariff Item of the Customs Tariff gives duty free status to “articles for use solely or principally with those vehicles manufactured more than 25 years prior to the date of importation”. Information about the interpretation of this tariff item can be found at: <http://www.cbsa-asfc.gc.ca/publications/dm-md/d10/d10-15-20-eng.html>

As stated in this memo, eligible articles are limited to those solely or principally for qualifying vehicles and would have to be in keeping with the original appearance and configuration of the vehicle. These may be either original articles or reproductions.

Articles that incorporate modern safety features or other technological developments can be considered under tariff item No. 9966.00.00, provided that they are solely or principally for use with qualifying vehicles and do not compromise the original configuration of the vehicle. An example would be disc brakes designed specifically for a 1936 Chevrolet Coupe.

General purpose articles that can be used in vehicles covered and not covered under tariff item No. 9966.00.00 are not eligible for consideration. So, reproduction door panels would be eligible as they are specific to a vehicle over 25 years old, but tires that fit both a TR6 and a 2011 Ford would not.

On the brokerage/handling fee issue, Canada Post will collect a fee of $9.95 as a handling fee, if duties and/or taxes were collected on the shipment.

On shipments with a value up to $2500, there are ways to avoid the brokerage fees charged by UPS, FedEx etc., by clearing the shipment yourself.

There are 2 ways to do this:

1. Prior to receiving your shipment, you can contact the courier company and inform them of your wish to self-clear any shipments that are addressed to you and on which brokerage fees are applicable. The company will explain their procedures to you.

2. As an alternative, when a casual shipment is delivered to you, you can refuse delivery and advise the courier company of your intention to self-clear directly with the CBSA. In this case, please ensure that you take note of the unique shipment identifier number on the package, as the shipment will be returned to the courier's warehouse.

With both options, you will need to visit your local CBSA office to complete a B15 (Casual Goods Accounting Document) and provide them with specific details, including the courier's name, the unique shipment identifier number, a description of the goods and their value so that the CBSA can correctly assess the goods. This information is usually indicated on the shipment's invoice, which will be provided to you by the courier company. When you have paid the applicable duties and/or taxes to the CBSA, you will be given an official receipt indicating that the goods have been accounted for. You will need to present this receipt to the courier's warehouse where your shipment is stored, in order for the courier to release your shipment to you.

Despite what you may be told by the courier, you have the right to do this and clear the goods yourself.

See: <https://www.cbsa.gc.ca/publications/dm-md/d17/d17-4-0-eng.pdf> and in particular paragraph 56.

A special thank you to past NAACC Vice President Wilfred Moase, from PEI, for his many hours of research and presenting this in-depth article.

ESTATE CARS FOR SALE

The family of former APAC club member Vince Mandaione have decided it's time to find new custodians for his cars.

Vince owned and restored these two treasures for around 40 years. After his passing, they have stayed in the garage and have only been started and driven occasionally, so the time has come to find new enthusiasts who will own and enjoy them.

1927 Ford Model T Touring – restored in the early '80's to original condition, driven on many tours and club events, also participated in the Calgary Stampede parade for many years. Good reliable T to enjoy with family or friends. Lots of the cars history and restoration photos included.

Asking $ 15,000.00 or best offer.

Please call Rosaria O'Bray at 403-703-6968 or email inquiries to robroy73@gmail.com

Asking $18,500.00 or best offer.
